

DR. PARDEE HAS A SAFE MAJORITY.

Complete Returns Slow Coming in but There Cannot be Any Change in the Result.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—While Pardee's majority for Governor will not be as large as was anticipated by his supporters, there is no doubt of his election. The returns from 91 additional precincts this morning showed a gain of only five votes, leaving Pardee 719 votes ahead with 422 precincts to hear from. Since then, however, sixty-nine additional precincts from Los Angeles county have been received, and with these votes Pardee gains 105 more, making his total vote over Lane, with 353 precincts to hear from, 1,904.

MASON HAS LITTLE TO SAY.

HE SAYS THAT HE WILL NOT CONCEDE, NOR CLAIM ANYTHING

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—John A. Mason, secretary of the Democratic State committee, said today:

"There is nothing new to add to our position. We neither concede nor claim anything. We are receiving the official returns gradually. Until we know something of the official figures, we cannot say a word. There are circumstances connected with the election that we are now looking into that we may not be through with until we have the full returns in."

"What are the circumstances?" Mr. Mason was asked. "Well, the matter of defective ballots and protests and some others I'm ready to mention."

"If the official returns justified our suspicions," said Mr. Mason, "we would go before the county canvassers in counties up the State when they meet on Tuesday next. The next step would be to appeal to the State Board of Canvassers if we considered that justice was not being done and after that we would go to the courts."

"Of course I am not saying that we will have to do this. That is only the

SPEAR MADE GREAT FIGHT FOR PARDEE.

He is Being Complimented on Successful Manner in Which He Managed Campaign.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Charles H. Spear, Chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee, is being congratulated on the great victory achieved by Dr. Pardee. It is believed that the election was lost to Dr. Pardee early on to ten days prior to last Tuesday, and the change in the result is largely due to Spear's untiring exertions and his success in harmonizing factional differences.

From the first he was hampered by difficulties that would have daunted almost any man. The Executive Committee, the majority of which was composed of New and Flint partisans, was not as a body in sympathy, and Cutter, the executive chairman, openly derided Spear's efforts and methods. It is an open secret that there was treachery in the committee itself, and the complexion of it offended thousands of Republicans in the State, especially the friends of Governor Gage.

Spear knew that Dr. Pardee's election depended on getting the Republicans into line, and he worked unrelentingly to gain that end, and was extremely successful in the closing days of the campaign, although his efforts were being thwarted and belittled in his own household.

Had Cutter and his associates been allowed to control the campaign, the Democrats would today be celebrating the election of Lane, for the branches in the Republican party would have been widened instead of closed. The credit of closing them belongs to Spear more than any single man.

Notwithstanding the antagonism caused by the Chronicle and Call, the Gage forces were brought actively into line for Dr. Pardee, and to that fact can be ascribed the huge majority given the head of the ticket in Los Angeles and the other counties south of Tehachapi.

The Campaign Committee was also handicapped by lack of funds and handicapped by the partial alliance of the Democrats with the Union Labor people. Even those who criticized him most now admit that Spear performed his difficult task skillfully.

J. CAL EWING THANKS HIS FRIENDS

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Although defeated in my contest to succeed myself as County Auditor, I wish most heartily to thank my friends for their efforts in my behalf, and I wish to especially thank THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE for its efforts, not only in my behalf, but in behalf of the entire Republican ticket. I feel that it is mainly due to THE TRIBUNE that the State ticket and also the county officers elected, received their great majority.

ONE PLACE WHERE DEMOCRATS WIN WAS HIT BY A FOOTPAD.

MAN FROM THE SOUTH HAS A VERY LIVELY EXPERIENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 6.—John Stoll, a country shoemaker, had a real city experience last night, and if the men with the sandbag and black-jack had been a bit more energetic the visitor from San Bernardino county would not now be alive to tell the story.

As it is, Stoll walks about today with a big shaved spot on the top of his head and several scarp wounds covered with sticking plaster as additional adornments. Under the circumstances, having survived the adventure, Stoll does not much regret the loss of $180 and a gold watch, although he worked two years to save the former.

When he arrived in this great metropolis several days ago Stoll became enamored of the red lights on the Barbary Coast. He put up at the Adelphi Hotel, on Jackson street, to be in the center of the swim, and walked about at night and slept daytimes for the first time in his life. Up to last night it was extremely interesting.

Just about half-past 2 this morning Stoll, having been in his room, started out again to see what was doing. He was standing at the lamp post on the corner near the Adelphi when he felt a terrible blow on the top of his head. The blow came from behind and was quickly followed by another. That's all Mr. Stoll remembers.

When the shoemaker came to and realized he had been robbed he told Police-man Fennell that he saw two men lurking in the shadow near the corner before he was struck. He said he had seen the men before, and he thinks he could identify them if they are caught.

A lot of white sand was found on the sidewalk near where Stoll fell, so it is thought he may have been hit with a loaded stocking.

THE OLD RELIABLE

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

NO POSSIBILITY OF A RECOUNT FOR LANE

It Rests Solely With Legislature and the Precedent of 1895 is Deemed Conclusive.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Franklin K. Lane's threat to demand a recount is not regarded seriously by either the Republican leaders. Lane receives no encouragement from his political sponsor, Gavin McNab, who comedes that Dr. Pardee is fairly elected.

"George C. Pardee is elected Governor of California," said McNab. "I don't care what figures other people may have, for I have my own figures. When Los Angeles gave Pardee upward of 5,500 majority and the other five counties south of the Tehachapi line stood well up in the Republican column, I knew that Pardee had been elected. It would take a number of small counties to overcome this unexpected and previously unestimated majority and they are not to be had."

Other prominent Democrats say Lane will be foolish if he really does attempt to question the result. They say he will only discredit himself and gain no comfort by appealing to the Legislature to order a recount. In support of this view they point to the failure to induce the Legislature to go behind the returns in 1895, when the Republican State Committee claimed that Budd had been counted in over Estee by frauds committed in San Francisco.

"The talk of a recount is all nonsense," said Charles H. Spear, Chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee. "There is nothing in it. There is no ground for it whatever. Ballots were thrown out for legal informality all over the State, but how many nobody knows, nor can anybody say who lost or benefited thereby. It is to be presumed that the election boards followed the law, and it may also be presumed that the losses about offset each other. My information is that a count of the ballots thrown out would do Lane no good. The story of thousands of Democratic ballots being thrown out in Alameda, Los Angeles and other Republican counties is an absurd falsehood. I don't believe Lane will be silly enough to demand a recount, when he gets over his disappointment a little, but will stand by the congratulations he has extended to Dr. Pardee. There will be no recount."

The history of the attempt to have a recount of the vote on Governor in 1894 is as follows: Budd's plurality was a little over 1,000. The Legislature was overwhelmingly Republican in both branches.

On Saturday, December 8, 1894, P. B. Connelley, as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, made a formal protest to the Board of Election Commissioners of San Francisco against the counting of certain returns from precincts in San Francisco. As the Election Board ignored the protest, Mr. Connelley applied to the Supreme Court for a writ mandating it to compel it to ignore the protested returns, but the Court denied the petition on December 10th. On December 15th the Board of Election Commissioners decided to contest the election of Budd, and demanded of the Legislature a recount of the votes cast in the State and particularly in San Francisco. Accordingly it appointed a contest committee of seven to institute proceedings. That committee reported back to the Legislature on January 4, 1895, that it was confronted with grave legal difficulties, as the only provision made by the State law for the contesting of the election of a Governor or Lieutenant-Governor was unconstitutional. These sections of the Political Code (Nos. 288 to 295) provided that any elector of the State might contest such election, and that in order to do so he must file with the presiding officer of each house of the Legislature a verified specification of the grounds of the contest within twenty days after the declaration of the result of said election; and that after due notice to both the contesting and both Houses, each House must choose seven members of its own body to try the contest. The judgment of this committee being final and conclusive.

When the Legislature assembled at Sacramento in January, 1895, an attempt was made by Timothy Guy Phelps of San Mateo county to secure the passage of a concurrent resolution sanctioning the appointment of a non-partisan commission of five members from each House to recount the vote for Governor, but it failed to pass. It was then postponed by the Assembly, and the Senate caucus absolutely refused to entertain the proposition. Hence the proposed contest was dropped on January 8th.

Now, as in 1895, the Legislature is overwhelmingly Republican in both branches. It is not deemed likely that the Legislature will even entertain the proposition to order a recount, in view of the summary was a similar demand was squelched in 1895.

DIMMICK MAY NOW ESCAPE THIRD TRIAL.

Government Considering Request to Dismiss Case.

Ex-Chief Clerk of Mint Arraigned in Circuit Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Walter N. Dimmick, Ex-Chief Clerk of the United States Mint at San Francisco, was arraigned this morning on a charge of stealing $20,000 from the vault of that institution in the United States Circuit Court.

His examination was set for January 8th. In the meantime the United States District Attorney expects to hear from the Attorney General in regard to dismissing the case. Dimmick has already had two trials and in each case the jury disagreed. It is said the District Attorney decided that he could not secure a conviction and asked advice from Washington in regard to having the case dismissed.

The former trial cost the Government $2,200 and $1,000 respectively and it is believed that the Washington authorities will take that fact into consideration in passing upon the matter.

Dimmick is at present serving a four years' sentence, two years for embezzlement and two years for issuing a false voucher.

MOLINEUX CASE IN COURT.

EXPERTS ARE STILL GIVING TESTIMONY TO THE JURY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—When court opened today in the Molineux trial, David Carvalho, the handwriting expert who was on the stand at yesterday's adjournment, resumed his place in the witness chair. He said he did not believe that Molineux wrote the poison package wrapper.

As soon as the direct examination of Carvalho was completed, Assistant District Attorney Osborne made another attempt to get the "poison package" blank in evidence, but Justice Lambert declined to reverse his earlier judgment excluding it.

The so-called diagnosis blank gives the measurements and number of data of a man suffering from a trouble which the patient medicine vendors, to whom the blank was addressed, guaranteed to cure.

"Did Carvalho write the address on the poison wrapper?" Mr. Osborne asked.

"He did not," replied the witness without hesitation.

"Did Helles write it?"

"No, sir."

"Mr. Carvalho," said Ex-Governor Black, "you answered a question here as a psychologist. You were asked whether you thought a man when writing an address on a poison package would disguise his writing and you replied 'Yes.' Let me ask you another psychological question. Do you think a man sending a poison to himself would write the address at all with his own handwriting?"

Mr. Osborne objected and the court declined to let the witness answer.

Court adjourned for recess after the defense had sworn its next witness, Edward P. Satter, assistant paying teller of the Metropolitan Savings Bank.

DR. PARDEE IS A VICTIM OF LUMBAGO

Dr. George C. Pardee, Governor-elect of California, is suffering from a severe attack of lumbago and he spent the greater part of the day in bed.

Dr. Pardee has made a vigorous campaign and, although he is robust, it has had a telling effect upon him. He was seized with lumbago yesterday afternoon and, although he has had 112 hours sleep within the last few days, he passed a sleepless night. Toward morning, however, he was able to rest and slept until after noon.

EASTERN RETURNS.

REPUBLICANS HAVE ELECTED MANY REPUBLICAN MEMBERS SAY THEY WILL INCREASE THEIR

THEIR ENTIRE STATE TICKET.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—Nearly complete returns show that the Republicans have elected their entire State ticket with the possible exception of Superintendent of Schools and two of the three Congressmen and that the Democrats will have a majority of 16 to 18 on joint ballot in the Legislature unless the Republicans obtain control of the Lower House and unseat the entire Arapahoe county delegation. The Republican leaders frankly announce that they will carry out the program if it is in their power.

In such an event, the Senate consisting of 25 Democrats and ten Republicans will probably refuse to organize the Legislature with the House and thus will block the election of a successor to United States Senator Teller. On the face of the returns the House membership appears to be 33 Democrats and 32 Republicans but the Republicans claim that the official count will revise these figures. The plurality for Peabody, Republican candidate for Governor, over Stinson, Democrat, is about 6,000.

Franklin E. Brooks, Republican candidate for Congressman-at-large, defeated Alva Adams, Democrat, by about 1,000. Congressman John P. Beyer, Democrat, has a plurality of about 2,500 in the First District and Congressman John C. Bell was beat out of the Second District by Herschel M. Hoge, Republican, whose plurality is figured at 3,300.

Robert W. Bonyne, Republican candidate for Congress in the First District, has announced that he will contest Shattuck's election on the ground of alleged registration frauds and re-nomination in Denver. The Republican leaders are taking measures to bring about the election of a Republican in the city and will demand an investigation by a special Grand Jury.

GOVERNOR-ELECT PARDEE WILL SPEAK AT RALLY

BERKELEY, Nov. 6.—At the smoker in the Harmon gymnasium this evening, the students of the University of California will be addressed by Dr. George C. Pardee, Governor-elect of California. He was invited last week by Will Leavelle, Smith to speak at tonight's meeting, and he promised to do so if elected Governor. This morning he sent word that he would be with the boys at their rally.

The rally tonight will be a smoker. It is the last football demonstration at Berkeley before the season, and will be largely attended.

James D. Pardee, Dr. Leuschner, Herbert Dam, '96; W. H. Wase, '91; Isaac Golden, '93; James Kuford, '93; Frank Wright, '93; Jesse Stenham, '91; Frank Powers, '92; and W. Womble, '92, will deliver speeches.

BREKEN SWITCH DELAYS BERKELEY LOCAL TRAIN

BERKELEY, Nov. 6.—Owing to a break in the switch at North Berkeley station this morning, the local trains to San Francisco were unable to run on schedule. When the six o'clock train failed to pull up to North Berkeley, it was found that the switch was broken and the train had to back down to Berkeley station. A gang of men were put to work at once, and by 6:10 the damage was repaired and the trains running on time.

The majority returns indicate that Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 28 was strongly opposed in this county and that the other amendments received substantial support.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE
Tribune Publishing Company William E. Dargie, President

ZOLA AND NORRIS.

The Kansas City Star remarks that it is a coincidence that the death of Emile Zola should be so soon followed by that of his most promising disciple in America. For Frank Norris claimed the French realist as his literary master, and the influence of the older man is apparent in all of the younger's serious work. In choice of material, of course, there was a wide difference between the two. Whether Norris would have cared to make such studies as Zola did in "Nana," for instance, is doubtful. But, in any event, his Americanism had been forbidden that. Nor did he ever follow after Zola's pseudo-scientific work in heredity. The resemblance was rather in Norris's adoption of the Frenchman's realistic method and of his vast and allegorical conception of his subjects.

Zola attempted to give a complete picture of French life in a series of novels dealing with its different phases. It was Norris's plan to present the life of America in a trilogy—the "epic of the wheat." Like the French realist, the American believed he could secure the most striking results by the multiplication of brutally frank detail. If he had a murder to describe, the reader was spared nothing down to the final hicoughs of the dying person. But, as in the case of Zola, while his method was realistic, his fundamental ideas were allegorical. And here the influence of the Frenchman was strikingly shown. In "The Octopus," for instance, the locomotive with its glaring headlights, its resistless rush, its unfeeling mechanism, typified the railway corporation which was represented in conflict with the wheat growers; just as in "McTeague" the mine's pump engine stood for the owners in their struggle with the men. There are passages in "The Octopus" which seem to have been inspired by the description in "Germinal" of the final collapse of the engine into the flooded mine.

It need not be said, of course, that Norris was no mere imitator. His work was his own, and it was successful because he possessed in some degree, at least, the same high qualities that belonged to his French master. He had that almost fanatical sincerity, that somber sense of the inevitableness of things, that ability to deal effectively with men in the mass and with circumstances on a vast scale. And he had that same lack of the sense of humor which impaired the work of Zola. This was apparent in his fugitive writings for the magazines, as well as in his novels. He took everything in dead earnest. One of his latest published essays was a grave reply in the September Critic to a witty article in the August Bookman on the absurdity of certain conventional attacks on newspapers. This lack of a keen sense of humor was perhaps his most serious fault.

RECRUDESCENCE OF CLEVELAND

The crushing defeat of the Democrats and Fusionists in Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Idaho, Utah and Montana, and the development of something like old time Democratic strength in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maryland and West Virginia indicate that the Democratic party has about got back to the moorings which it abandoned in 1896. The region west of the Missouri river was the hotbed of Bryanism and free silver. In that whole section only one State now remains under the Democratic banner, and that is Nevada, which has oddly enough repudiated the silver heresy by electing a Gold Democrat Governor. Cleveland and Hill are once more the patron saints of the Democracy and the picture of Bryan is turned permanently to the wall. Bryan was an interesting figure for awhile, but the bubble has burst and the John Law of American politics has been completely discredited as a leader and prophet on his own camping ground.

NOT AT ALL SERIOUS.

Mr. Lane's talk of a recount does not amount to much. Dr. Pardee's majority is between 3,000 and 4,000, and is too large to warrant going behind the returns. Budd's plurality was only a little over 1,000, yet a Republican Legislature refused to sanction a recount, although one was strongly urged by the Republican State Committee. A Republican Legislature is not likely to do for Mr. Lane, a Democrat, what a Republican Legislature in 1895 refused to do for Mr. Estey, a Republican. Not only is Dr. Pardee's plurality three times as large as Budd's but Mr. Lane's claim is based only on the assertion that ballots cast for him were thrown out for informality, while in Budd's case the specific charge of fraud in the count was made.

Frank C. Jordan has abundant reason to congratulate himself on the enormous majority cast for him. Not only did his own county give him an immense vote, but the whole State chimed in with banner majorities for him. The election was but a sequence of the ovation that was given him when he was nominated. This is a good year for Alameda county men.

In Ohio Tom Johnson has discovered that a political circus draws better in the tent than at the polls.

ABOUT THE TRUSTS.

Perhaps after the excitement of the political campaigns is over, and practical people realize that all the talk about means of regulating, suppressing or crushing the trust has been of no account, there will be a natural drift toward consideration of the trust subject by the Legislatures of the States. The trust question has been under consideration for a long time and nothing has been done. Let any one think back to the enactment of the Sherman law, which was never a remedy of great reach. Since then Congress and Administrations have come and gone, and there has been nothing but discussion and abuse. If these trusts and combinations are against justice and the general interest of the people, if they are not natural outgrowths of prosperity and progress, if they are not the legitimate result of great wealth in many hands, if they are not the development of enterprises which are of advantage to the whole people, rich and poor, high and low, there must be a remedy somewhere and some time. In the course of nature. The fact that it has not appeared in so many years has almost convinced a great many honest men that the trusts have come to stay, and that they are the natural and desirable results of advancing conditions.

But that conclusion is not yet reached. There is still a tremendous sentiment in both of the great political parties that the trusts are wrong, though there has not been much more than a thrashing of the atmosphere in seeking a remedy. If the trusts are to be overthrown or regulated—if they do not fall on account of their own enormous weight—the next proper steps seem to be in the States.

CALIFORNIA'S FOLLY.

The House of Representatives remains safely Republican, but no thanks to California which elects three Democrats in the places of sitting Republicans. Had other Republican States followed this bad example, the Democrats would have a sweeping majority in the popular branch of Congress.

The folly of sending Democrats to Congress from California should be apparent. Aside from the fact that inexperienced men will take the places of experienced legislators, the new members will be out of touch with the sentiment and political influences controlling the House. None of them can get a chairmanship, but all three will have to take their places at the tail of the minority end of the committees. They can expect no favors from their Republican associates, and will be in no position to push through legislation affecting the local interests of their respective districts. Conceding them to be ever so able and willing, they lack the experience necessary to obtain successful recognition, besides being at war with the forces that dominate the House.

In the case of the Second district, the defeat of Coombs was almost a criminal blunder. Coombs was sacrificed to the notion that he had not done justice by the Sacramento river. Now what can his successful competitor do? Mr. Coombs was chairman of a committee, had served a previous term, and was in touch with the majority. Mr. Bell lacks all these requisites, and will be in no position to accomplish much for the improvement of the river.

By the defeat of Loud California loses her oldest member and the chairmanship of the Postoffice Committee, one of the most important in Congress, and by the defeat of Kahn San Francisco loses an effective representative of the commercial interests of the greatest port on the Pacific Coast. In the natural order of things the successors of Kahn and Loud can be expected to accomplish little affirmative legislation. But what is done is done, and that ends the matter for the present. However, the people of this State will not be long in realizing that a grievous mistake was committed.

METCALF'S MAGNIFICENT ENDORSEMENT.

The Third Congressional District did its duty nobly by Victor H. Metcalf. His majority is over a thousand more than the phenomenal majority given him two years ago, being slightly in excess of 10,000. Mr. Metcalf is to be congratulated on the splendid endorsement given him, but the voters of the Third District are to be congratulated still more, first, for the good judgment they have shown, and second, in having so able a man to represent them in Congress as the Hon. Victor H. Metcalf.

Francis Burton Harrison, who married the eldest daughter of the late Colonel Fred Crocker, is elected to Congress from New York on the Democratic ticket. His mother is Mrs. Burton Harrison, the well known author. His father was private secretary to Jefferson Davis when Davis was President of the Southern Confederacy. Wealth and fashion joined hands with the braves of Tammany to elect Mr. Harrison.

The majorities given Judges Hall and Greene are not as large as was expected and desired, but they are quite large enough to do the trick.

PERSONAL AND DR. TODD'S BACK FROM EAST.

RECENT EVENTS OF INTEREST TO THE MEMBERS OF THE SMART SET.

Miss Queenie Montgomery and Chas. Stewart were married last night by Rev. Dr. T. J. Lacey of Christ Church. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, Mrs. A. J. Montgomery, 3412 Park street, Alameda, and was witnessed by relatives and a few friends. The bridesmaid was Miss Edna J. Montgomery, and the groom was attended by James Keeler of East Oakland. Stewart is an attorney of the college town, while the bride, who has been a substitute teacher in the local School Department, has a large number of acquaintances in social circles. After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside Berkeley.

INTERESTING LUNCHEON.

One of the most interesting luncheons society people enjoyed for some time was the affair given yesterday at the pretty new home of the Lowlands, Scotts on Hillside avenue. The luncheon was given by Mrs. M. Scott, who has just come as a bride from Honolulu, and as a farewell to Mrs. George Augur, who leaves for her Hawaiian home in a few days. The improvised dining-room where the "luncheon" was served was transformed into a tropical bower. Growing palms, tall and low, were planted in evidence, standing about the room and completely covering the wall and ceiling, the whole lighted with colored incandescent lamps and making a realistic spot for the serving of the typical Hawaiian feast.

The menu was served in true island style, straw matting covering the floors and the guests seated on calabashes, with leis hung on their necks, and the little maidens—Hawaiian heads—adorned with gay little yellow seashells.

During the luncheon the Hawaiian Glee Club sang the intimate native airs, completing the illusion. The guests were Mrs. George Augur, Mrs. Walter H. Scott of San Francisco, Mrs. Reginald Knight Smith, Miss Florence Brown, Miss Lilian Evans, Mrs. Alan Babcock, Miss Sallie Hampton, Mrs. James G. Allen, Mrs. Fred Merritt, Miss Ella Scott of Baltimore, Miss Wilcox, Miss Bertha Wilcox, Mrs. Will Meek, Mrs. C. Oscar Gowling, Mrs. A. K. Munson, Miss Oliver and Miss Anita Oliver.

THE NICHOLSON LUNCHEON.

The luncheon given Wednesday by Miss Carrie Nicholson was an interesting and enjoyable affair. Covers were laid for twenty-four and the long table carried an effective decoration in red. Wide scarlet bows and streamers running the length of the table were the principal feature of the decorative scheme, with the graceful Virginia creeper and exquisite madrone berries vied in their brilliancy with the glowing flame-colored candelabra, the whole making a charming bit of color. The luncheon was followed by cards. The guests, who afterward assisted the hostess in receiving were: Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. I. Emmet Nicholson, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Charles Partridge, Mrs. William H. Richardson, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. E. J. Cotton, Miss Mabel Gare, Mrs. Louise Allander, Mrs. E. S. Enges, Mrs. George Gross, Mrs. Louise Allander, Miss Felton Taylor, Mrs. Charles Lovell, Mrs. Churchill Taylor, Miss Alma Brown, Miss Adah Brown, Miss Emma Mahoney, Mrs. Albert Long, the Misses Young, Miss James Tyson and Mrs. de Golia. Five hundred euclys was the game for the afternoon, the prizes going to Mrs. Louise Allander, Miss Felton Taylor, San Francisco and Mrs. Frank McLaughlin.

COPPER WIRE STOLEN FROM POWER HOUSE

Chief of Police Hodgkins and his force of detectives are trying hard to locate a large amount of copper wire that was stolen from the Oakland Transit Company on the night of November 1st. The company had a considerable quantity of the wire stored in the power house at Elmhurst. Sometime late Saturday night the room where the wire was stored was broken open and a considerable amount of the wire taken—the exact amount of which cannot be determined. It is the opinion of the police department that the wire had been shipped away to be disposed of as the wire, being copper, would command a good price. The Transit Company is anxious to recover the property and has offered a reward for its return.

TALK GETS FONES INTO JAIL AGAIN

For the sixth time has J. H. Fones been arrested for violating the ordinance that prohibits public speaking on the street corners without the permission of the Mayor or Chief of Police. Fones attempted to tell the people in the neighborhood of Tenth and Broadway last night why Lane was defeated, but he got no further than "Ladies and Gentlemen," when Officer Murphy appeared and took him into custody. In the Police Court this morning he entered a plea of not guilty and demanded a trial by jury. Fones has now six jury trials coming to him and the meantime he is out on $20 cash bail in each case.

HE VISITED MANY CITIES AND WAS AT GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Hamilton Todd have returned from a five weeks' visit to the East which was full of interest and enjoyment.

They were in Washington, D. C., during the week of the National Encampment of the G. A. R., which was held this year in the National Capital, where the doctor had the pleasure of meeting more than fifty thousand of his comrades-in-arms during the stirring days of '61 to '65, and of again marching in review down historic Pennsylvania Avenue with forty thousand of his old comrades, who, with less elastic step and soldierly bearing now, proudly marched over this same route in the grand review of the armies of the Nation at the close of the mighty struggles of the Civil War.

During the week of the Encampment unusual opportunities were afforded the old veterans to visit the public buildings and places of historic interest in and about Washington, and daily excursions were made to Mount Vernon, Arlington, Soldiers' Home, and the great battlefields about Washington, Richmond, in the Shenandoah Valley, Antietam and Gettysburg.

The doctor chose to visit the battlefields of Fredericksburg, Richmond and the Shenandoah Valley as points of greatest interest to him, and brought home with him several interesting relics from the battlefields he visited. Mrs. Todd spent most of her time while in Washington in the art galleries, National Museum, Congressional Library and Capitol buildings, but also accompanied the doctor on many of his trips to places of historic interest outside of the city.

Leaving Washington a tour of the cities of Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York was made, returning by way of Washington to Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania where a more prolonged visit was made with the mother and relatives of Doctor Todd in the home of his childhood.

Short visits were made in the cities of Warren, Ohio, Chicago, and Leavenworth and Topeka, Kansas.

Dr. Todd expresses himself as having been greatly benefited by the rest, and change of scene and climate, and will immediately resume his practice in this city.

The trial of the divorce suit begun by Alphonsine L. Rivard against her husband, O. Charles Rivard, on the ground of cruelty, commenced before Judge Ogden today.

The wife alleges her husband has made her life unbearable by kicks and blows. After having beaten her severely on one occasion, the wife says her husband was afraid to come home but slept in the cellar to avoid meeting her.

Mrs. Rivard occupied the witness stand during the morning. She testified to various acts of cruelty.

TOO MUCH ANDERSON IN POLICE COURT.

Frank Anderson was examined in the Police Court this morning on a charge of battery preferred by Harry Anderson, the witness for the prosecution being a man also named Anderson. Considerable difficulty was experienced in drawing out the correct account of the affair, although four guilty, the court allowed the defendant to go as the Andersons differed in their stories.

INMATES OF BOX CAR GO TO JAIL

Six young fellows appeared in the Police Court this morning on charges of violating the sleeping out ordinance by sleeping in a box car. They were arrested at sixteenth street depot last night by Officer Book. All pleaded guilty and were sentenced to serve three days in the city prison.

HIS HOME ENTERED AND GOLD WATCH TAKEN.

R. A. Richard of 715 Twelfth street informed the police authorities this morning that a gold watch taken from his home had been stolen from the Oakland Transit Company on the night of November 1st. The company had a considerable quantity of the wire stored in the power house at Elmhurst. Sometime late Saturday night the room where the wire was stored was broken open and a considerable amount of the wire taken—the exact amount of which cannot be determined. It is the opinion of the police department that the wire had been shipped away to be disposed of as the wire, being copper, would command a good price. The Transit Company is anxious to recover the property and has offered a reward for its return.

I did so, fortunately for me. Before a month had passed I felt that my general health had improved; in three months more I was cured, and I have been in perfect health since. I did not lose an engagement or miss a moment.

Judge Smith thought that Geraty should receive a reminder for his acts and sentenced him to pay a fine of $5.

THE PRUTH ABOUT PIANO BUYING

A Genuine Piano Sale at Last.

After reading so much about cheap pianos at cheap prices it must be refreshing to the piano buyers of San Francisco to see the straightforward manner in which our largest piano house, Kohler & Chase of 1013 and 1015 Broadway, is conducting the most gigantic clearance sale the coast has ever seen. The sale is genuine and was forced upon them, and above all it is certain the pianos are reliable, despite the tremendously low prices at which they are being sold. Kohler & Chase is a house that Californians may well be proud of—established in 1850 when the State was in its infancy—it has grown with her until today it ranks as the greatest musical establishment of the entire West. The San Francisco warehouse at 28-30 O'Farrell street is a credit to the city. The phenomenal results of this enormous clearance sale are showing to what extent the people of both cities trust the representative piano house and proves that the people understand the price others charge for should deal with a house that can be trusted. When Kohler & Chase announce that they are selling good pianos at the price others charge for cheap ones you may rest assured it is so.

REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE CONTROL OF THE LEGISLATURE.

RETURNS SHOW THAT THEY HAVE A GOOD WORKING MAJORITY IN THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY.

The Republicans will have control of the Legislature. The returns so far received point to the election of twelve Republican Senators and sixty Republican Assemblymen. One Independent Republican also appears to be elected to the Senate. The Democrats seem to have elected six Senators and thirteen Assemblymen. One Democratic-Union Labor Senator, one Union Labor Assemblyman and six Democratic-Union Labor nominees for the Assembly have been elected in San Francisco.

Changes made by further returns it is thought that they will serve to increase the number of Republican members of the two Houses. Of the twenty hold-over Senators nineteen are Republicans and one is a Democrat. The Republicans will, therefore, have thirty-one of the forty seats in the Senate and possibly more. RAILROAD COMPANY WILL PROBABLY GRANT INCREASE IN PAY TONIGHT.

IT IS EXPECTED THAT WEST OAKLAND MEN WILL BE GIVEN A REPLY TO THEIR DEMANDS IN A FEW DAYS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Vice President Kruttschnitt and General Manager Agler of the Southern Pacific Company have been summoned to town and are in conference with Noble, Ingram, Burkhardt and all the other division superintendents of the company west of El Paso and Ogden.

It has practically been decided what answer will be made to the demands for higher wages made by the engineers and firemen. Before informing the men it was deemed desirable to get an opinion from the division superintendents.

Agler and Kruttschnitt are also consulting with the several superintendents about the demands of the telegraph operators for more pay. The company is about ready to give the operators a reply to their demand. It appears that the average monthly wage of the operators on the West Lake division of the company is $4.25, on the Tucson division $5.24. On all the other divisions the pay is so much lower it brings down the average for the whole system to $7.45. With the exception of the Denver and Rio Grande system, the operators of which average $2 a month, the average of the Southern Pacific is still higher than that of any road in the country. The Southern Pacific operators want the inequalities of pay on the several divisions removed by making the minimum pay per month over the whole system $7. It is believed the company's action on the demand will be favorable.

The employees concerned in these negotiations say the best of feeling prevails between them and the officials of the road.

HE TELLS ABOUT TONOPAH.

FRED ADAMS GIVES AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF MINING CAMP.

Tonopah, November 2nd, 1902. Editor TRIBUNE.—I am going to tell you about Tonopah, Nevada. My purpose here in prospecting and promoting mines and I wish to give the Oakland public these few facts about the camp and the country in general. The trip in from Reno is one of excitement and exhilaration. No sooner do you board the Virginia and Truckee than you hear on all sides the name of Tonopah. Acquaintances are soon formed and a jolly crowd of fortune hunters make the trip through the old mineral belt of the Comstock, one of pleasure and interest. Changing cars at Mound-house you are apt to see some old South Pacific Coast narrow-gauge cars, that have done duty on the road from Oakland to Santa Cruz. They seem like old friends and you wonder how they manage to hold together without the bracing air of the bay counties. On the Carson and Colorado line the running time is slow. The roadbed is very light and only day travel is possible, so you put up over night at Hawthorne. Leaving early the following morning you make Sodaville at eight o'clock, where everybody about the stage, instead of holding passengers, the driver directs the hostlers to loosen the leaders and we are off with a whoop and a hurrah behind eight horses, that want to walk on their hind legs only. Everybody is full of questions and the poor driver must daily answer the same questions of times. The distance is 65 miles, and takes 12 hours. The ride is fast and every one is in the best of spirits.

The road is over a small range of barren mountains with wonderful vistas but distant snow ranges, and old like beds of scores of miles in width. The road is a level, but the hills are covered with salt or soda, but mainly covered with sage brush and growths of desert vegetation. Relay stations are found at intervals of about 10 miles and to change to a new set, either on the hurricane deck or into the cabin. At the last change of horses the side lights are lighted and shortly after the arrival at Tonopah. The startling change from the desert to the wide streets of a booming mining camp, crowded with big teams and miners, is one to be appreciated. The outfit is immediately surrounded by a crowd looking for friends, whose names have been mentioned in the stage office in advance, and all is excitement while the passengers are unloading and claiming their baggage at the various hotels, mail and express depots. The tired traveler is only too willing to seek his couch and await the morrow in anticipation of seeing the various features of the new camp. Tonopah is beyond doubt the coming camp of the world. There are at present fourteen different mines in operation, the output of which are averaging into the hundreds of dollars per ton. The Tonopah Mining Company has six shafts sinking on their own property, the depth of which is 500 feet. Every day or two there are rich strikes.
